TRUE YELLOWS

After long years of patiently waiting and many false alarms, two all yellow herbaceous peonies have been placed on the market this year.

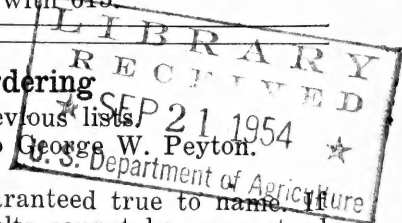

Claire de Lune, (White, 1954). This is a pale yellow single of great beauty and charm. It has a good plant of fair height and blooms early, with the earliest of peonies. Its stamens are orange and stigmas pale pink. It took over four thousand trials to produce it from a cross of Mlokozewitschi and Mons. Jules Elie and, so far, it is the only plant that lived from this cross. The entire stock of this for sale this year, was sold as soon as announced at $30 a root. Its disseminators are Gilbert H. Wild and Son, Sarcoxie, Missouri.

Oriental Gold. Rumors have persisted for many years that there was a full double yellow herbaceous peony somewhere in Japan. Finally, Mr. Louis Smirnow, 8 Elm Court Drive, Sands Point, L. I., N. Y. succeeded in locating a few plants of it. It is a double, lemon yellow with a few hidden stamens. The plant is medium height and has medium sized blooms, opening in midseason. The entire plant is different from any other ever found. Its roots are yellow and the foliage a light yellowish green which grows somewhat darker with age. Mr. Smirnow expects to have a few roots for sale this fall at $150.00 each.
